GERONIMO!

This week, dinosaurs are cool!

Why, thank you, old boy.

Be the first to find out what's happening in the Doctor's universe!

COMING BACK!

As we reported last issue, some familiar faces will be returning this year, including RIVER SONG and CRAIG, the Doctor's landlord in The Lodger.

Who would you like to see come back in the new series? Why not email your suggestions to dwa@bbc.com with 'I Want Them Back!' as the subject. We'd love to know!

THINGS THEY'D NEVER SAY

THE FLOOD

"Don't call me wet!"

"Can I borrow your lip balm?"

"Pass me a towel, please."

WHAT'S MAKING OUR WEEPING ANGEL WEEP THIS WEEK?

Burning some cakes

SOB

They were going to be rock cakes!

SPOTTED!

Doctor Who* monsters behaving badly when they think no-one can see!

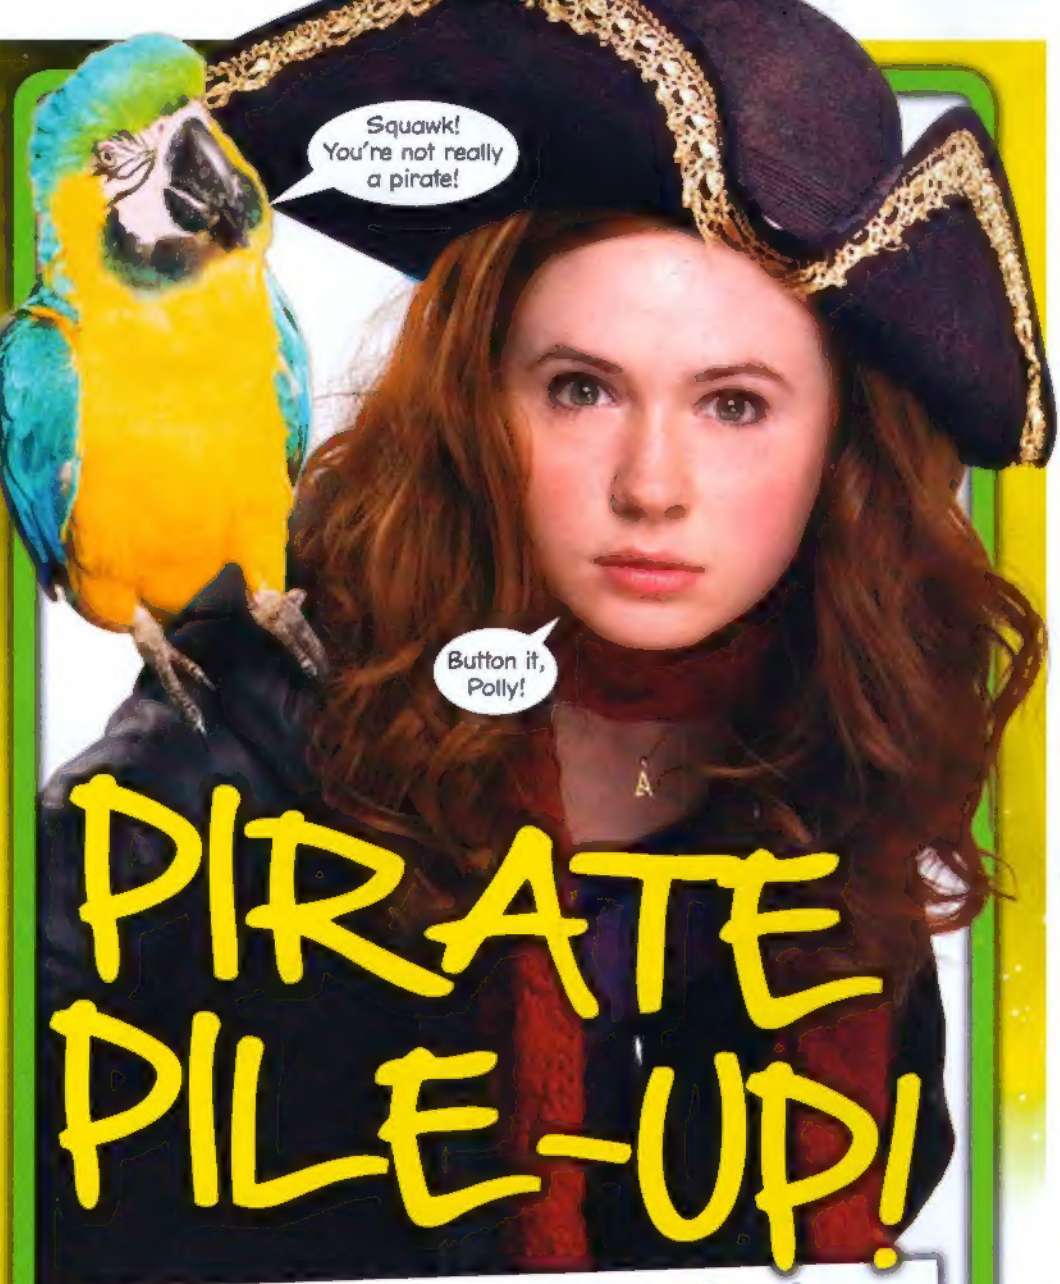
This Sontaran has gone off invading without his handkerchief. Look very carefully and you might be able to spot a little bit of bogey.



PIRATE PILE-UP!

Ahoy there, me hearties. It's been confirmed that there'll be a whole bunch of PIRATES in the new series of Doctor Who. They need the Doctor's help in dealing with a mysterious creature that's HAUNTING THEIR SHIP! We can't wait to see this story – and in the meantime, we're practising our best pirate accents. Yo ho ho! Shiver me timbers! Merry Christmas. Wait, that last one's not right...

DOCTOR WHO

Doctor Who is the name of the TV series, the man himself is just the Doctor. 'Who' is not his surname.

However, he's called Doctor Who in the closing credits of stories with the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Ninth Doctors, and he's called that in some old episodes, too!

My name is .....

WHAT DO YOU THINK? Write your answer here.

I'm whoever you want me to be!

Psychic paper is very useful when you want to be someone else. The Doctor can make you believe he is anyone – almost. Here are some of his finest fibs!

- ✗ The Doctor is the King of Belgium.
- ✗ He's an inspector from the Ministry of Art and Artiness.
- ✗ He was appointed protector of Queen Victoria.
- ✗ He's from the Ministry of Drills, Earth and Science.

JOHN SMITH

Second Doctor. It was

JAMIE McCRIMMON

The Tenth Doctor told Queen Victoria his name was Jamie McCrimmon – but that's really the name of one of his old companions!

AND YOU SAID...

We asked what you think the Doctor is really called.

Some thought the Doctor is called Bob because "he is obsessed with the name Bob."

Others suggested Bob is well, and also Fredricksen. Would he be Fred for short?

Others thinks the name must be very embarrassing if the Doctor doesn't want anyone to know it.

Others said that a name fit for a hero! Joseph thinks it's Big Brian! Jumble that up a bit and you get Big Brain. Cool!

Enter these cool comps today!

[illegible] ON RULES You must make sure that we have your entries by [illegible] 1. You can enter if you live in England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland or the Channel Islands, unless someone who lives in your house works for the BBC or BBC Worldwide. 2. All of our competitions follow the BBC Code of Conduct for competitions – you can read this at www.bbc.co.uk/competitioncode. 3. By entering the competition, you promise to us that you have read these rules and that you will follow them. 4. We can't include entries which arrive too late and we can't accept responsibility if your entry is lost in the post. If your entry is damaged before it reaches us, we may not be able to include it in the competition. 5. We will choose the winners at random from all of the right answers that we receive. 6. You must only enter this competition once. We don't allow bulk entries or entries made by other people on your behalf. 7. If you win, you will receive the prize described. We won't swap the prize for cash. If there's ever a reason why we can't give you exactly the same prize, we'll give you something just as good or better instead. 8. Winners will be notified within 28 days of a competition closing date, either by post, telephone or email. 9. If we contact you to tell you you're a winner, but you don't reply within a month, we may have to offer the prize to a runner-up or give it away in a future competition. [illegible] We will use your name, address and any other details that you give us to run this competition. If you win, we will pass them to the person who's providing the prize so that they can post it to you, and we may use your first name and county (and a photo if you've sent one to us) in the magazine but we won't provide them to anyone else without your permission. You can find out the winner's first name and county once the competition is over by sending a stamped addressed envelope to Competition Rules, ATTN: Rebecca Windsor, BBC Worldwide, Ground Floor, Media Centre, 201 Wood Lane, W12 7TQ. Remember to tell us which magazine, issue number and competition you'd like to know about. You can read the BBC Privacy Policy at www.bbc.co.uk/privacy.

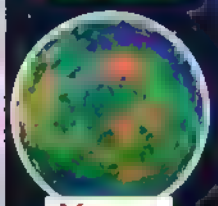
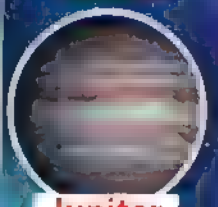
Mercury



Venus

Earth

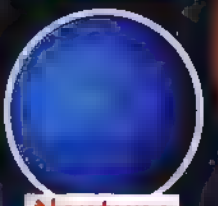
Mars



Jupiter

Saturn

Uranus



Neptune

1. MERCURY

As it's so close to the Sun, Mercury gets between five and 10 times as much heat and light as Earth!

Heavily cratered surface, like the Moon.

The lines coming out of craters are called rays.

It's easiest to see craters where the light meets the dark, because the shadows are longest.

Essential info

Name Mercury
Type Rocky planet
Size Smaller than some planets' moons!
Description Small and dense, Mercury is the closest planet to the Sun. Weirdly, a Mercury day (how long the planet takes to spin round) is longer than a Mercury year (how long it takes to go round the Sun)!

SPACE FACT!

NASA's Messenger spacecraft will land on Mercury later this month and send us back lots of images and information. Keep an eye on the news!

Pictures: Mercury: NASA/Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory/Carnegie Institution of Washington; Venus: NASA/JPL/USGS; Earth: NASA/JPL/Johns Hopkins University; Mars: NASA; J Bell (Cornell U.) and M Wolff (SSI); Jupiter: NASA/JPL/University of Arizona; Saturn: NASA/JPL/Space Science Institute; Uranus and Neptune: NASA/JPL

DOCTOR WHO ADVENTURES COMIC

SOUND BYTES

THE DOCTOR, AMY AND RORY IN...

LONDON. NOW.

After it! Don't let it out of our sight!

Someone stop that, um... that miniature spaceship.

WOOOOOSH

SUDDENLY...

KKLAK

Oh. That's not good. That's very, very not good.

It just dropped out of the sky. What happened, Doctor?

The sonic screwdriver confirms it. The spaceship's been evacuated.

VZEEEEEEEEEEEE

You said it belonged to the Virtuals, right? Sort of digital beings from another dimension who got stranded here? So...?

So... their spaceship was damaged, and I think the Virtuals escaped...

WI-FI ACCESS HERE

... By uploading themselves to the internet.

MEANWHILE, A FEW STREETS AWAY...

Your dinner's on the table, Rich!

Coming, Mum. I just want to download this new music file.

WORDS BY STEVE LYONS. ART BY JOHN ROSS. COLOURING BY ALAN CRADDOCK

SOON...
I've got internet access on my phone. But where do we start looking? The Virtuals could be anywhere online!
Um, Amy, Doctor... I think you should see this.
Reports are coming in from all over the world of people falling into hypnotic trances at their computers.
Didn't you hear me, Rich? I said your dinner's getting cold. Rich!
"While, in London, something even more strange is happening."
"The hypnotised – most of them youths – are gathering in the streets. We don't know why, but–"
Doctor, all the kids in that news report, they were all wearing headphones!
And that road they were marching along... I'm sure I know that road. I think it's somewhere near...

YARAGH!
... Um, here!
This must be the Virtuals' doing. But how?

Of course! You were right about the headphones, Amy.
Quick, Doctor, this way!

I think the Virtuals disguised themselves as an online music file, to take over the minds of anyone who downloaded and played it.
We're surrounded... by an army of brainwashed kids!

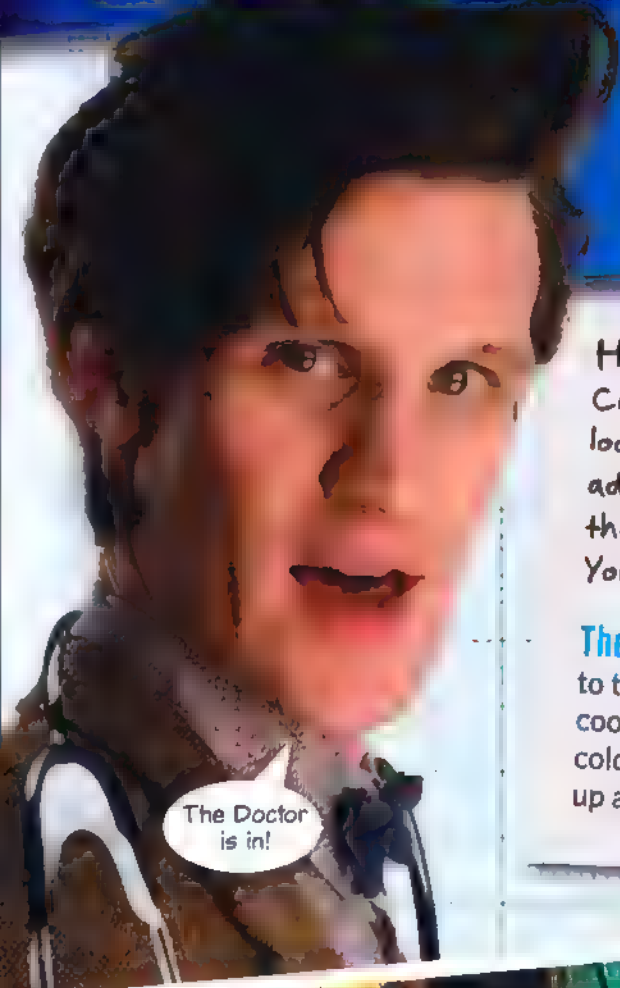
DOCTOR, DOCTOR!

Got a problem that needs solving? Nowhere else to turn? Then ask the Doctor. There's no one smarter!



Hello!
Can I come into your TARDIS? It looks really cool. Weird and wonderful adventures are your thing. I hope there are more. Nice to talk!
Yours, Sam Wilson

The Doctor replies: Hello Sam. Nice to talk to you, too. My TARDIS is really cool. I mean, really, really cool. Freezing cold, actually. The heating has packed up and Amy's baggsied all the ponchos!

Dear Doctor,
I have some questions about regenerating. Does it hurt when you regenerate? I hope it doesn't. Has anyone forced you to regenerate? Do different Time Lords regenerate differently, or all the same? Do you always regenerate in the TARDIS or can you regenerate anywhere? I hope you don't have to regenerate soon and stay the same.
Love from Cameron Thomas

The Doctor replies: OK. Lots of questions. I have answers. Now concentrate. Yes, a bit – well, it tickles; yes, and it was very rude of them; depends – with me it's always a bit last-minute; I prefer not to do it in public; me too!

Dear Doctor,
Where are you in time at the moment?
Oliver Patterson

The Doctor replies: At this moment, at this very, precise moment, I'm about a quarter past two, Thursday morning, GMT. That's General Mondasian Time. And it's raining goo.

Dear Doctor,
Does River ever get on your nerves meeting you in the wrong order? Do you get tired of saving the world? Is it nice to have a married couple in the TARDIS?
From,
Samuel Howden

The Doctor replies: Don't be silly. If I ever get tired of saving the world, I'll eat my Fez. (Can't talk about the other, erm... 'things' right now. They're all here with me. Shhhh.)
